

Jesse Loren – Council Member
Term Ends 2020

Jesse Loren was first elected to the Winters City Council in 2016.

Jesse Loren raised her three children in Winters, all of whom are college graduates, and she has 2 grandchildren who were born in Winters. Jesse was raised in Southern California, the youngest of 5 children, and the daughter of Mexican American and Irish American parents who were active in the Spanish speaking community.

Jesse attended U.C. Irvine, graduating with a degree in English Literature. Jesse went on to Chapman University to earn her Teaching Credential, and then attended University of New Orleans where she studied literature and art in Italy, Germany, and Spain before completing her dissertation on ekphrasis art, earning her Master of Fine Arts degree.

Jesse worked as a teacher for Esparto School district and taught English, Math and Integrated Science, she also taught Middle School for 3 years for Fairfield-Suisun, and taught English, AVID and Journalism for Travis Unified School District for 14 years. She is co-editor of two works of non-fiction: Bombshells: War Stories and Poems by Women on the Homefront and Mourning Sickness: Stories and Poems about Miscarriage, Stillbirth and Infant Loss, and she is author of one book of poetry called, “Screaming Meme.”

Jesse retired from teaching before pursuing her career in Public Service. She has a history of community advocacy especially in education and the Latino community. She currently serves as a Board Member of the League of California Cities and the Women’s Caucus, and lives with her husband Brian, a founding member of Democracy Winters. She enjoys downtime with garden, her cat Lucky and dog, Bacon.
